

Federal Government Compliance Training

Delivering training designed for federal employees

Promote an ethical and lawful culture across your agency with high-impact compliance courseware delivered through a powerful Learning Management System (LMS).

EFFECTIVE TRAINING WITH OPERATIONAL AND FINANCIAL EFFICIENCIES

The Federal Government Compliance Series supports complex learning initiatives with flexible technology options and content centered on key compliance topics. Our solution optimizes employee performance while promoting a lawful culture.

Our scalable solutions are designed to meet agency needs regardless of size. We accommodate rapidly changing conditions whether the organization continues to grow, or requirements and objectives change. We provide diverse and reliable content with an ever-expanding library. Access on-demand content specific to meeting the training requirements for government employees. We deliver maximum flexibility with customization options tailored around each agency's unique challenges and goals.

Our programs are developed to help agencies:

- Meet federal requirements to receive and maintain federal funding.
- Meet core training requirements through cloud-based training.
- Provide options created around must-have compliance functionality, including curriculum management and online reporting.
- Deliver content created in partnership with attorney subject matter experts with in-depth knowledge in government business requirements.
- Support evolving compliance messaging with a variety of authoring tools and tracking resources.
- Optimize operational efficiency and reduce financial outlay.

The image displays two screenshots of a training module titled "Benefits of an Inclusive Workplace".

The left screenshot shows a list of three bullet points: "Meeting the agency's expectations", "Avoiding legal violations", and "Building a more effective workplace". Below the list, there is a small image of a smiling man in a white shirt. At the bottom left, there is a legend with three items: "meeting the agency's expectations for proper people management", "avoiding legal violations and their consequences, and", and "building a more efficient, dynamic, and effective workplace".

The right screenshot shows a question: "What are three benefits for managers of making reasonable accommodations for employees?". Below the question is a list of five options, each with a checkbox: "Eliminating the need to consider employees' cultural differences", "Avoiding hiring unsuitable individuals", "Meeting the agency's expectations for proper people management", "Building a more effective workplace", and "Avoiding the consequences of legal violations". Below the list, there is a note: "Choose more than one option and then select Done. To deselect an option, choose it a second time." and a "Done" button. To the right of the question and list is a large image of a man in a grey suit standing behind two chairs.
