BUSINESS CHALLENGE

A tradition of lifelong learning is deeply rooted in the Bayer company culture. It is a guiding principle that ensures Bayer is continuously evolving and innovating while developing a highly skilled workforce.

To maximise all learning and development (L&D) initiatives, Bayer replaced over 80 disparate learning systems with a cohesive global learning management system that delivers consistent training to all employees in 241 geographical locations.

Furthermore, Bayer required its cloud-based learning solution remove barriers to self-directed learning in all professional situations and provide all employees access to a comprehensive range of learning in both multiple formats and languages.

HOW SKILLSOFT® HELPED

Bayer examined 10 learning content suppliers and selected Skillsoft because of both the scope and quality of its training and its attractive price-performance ratio. Skillsoft achieved the highest rating for a comprehensive cloud assessment which considered factors such as data protection, IT security, IT integration as well as enterprise architecture.

Skillsoft provided a fast implementation, and its high technical compatibility with SAP SuccessFactors facilitated the complex integration.

Bayer populated My Learning, its learning portal, with over 7,000 pieces of Skillsoft content in 29 languages, including the Skillsoft Digital Transformation and Leadership solutions.
